

Kiln-Dried Lumber Grades.

How we grade our kiln-dried hardwood lumber?

As a reputable hardwood supplier, we use National Hardwood Lumber Association (NHLA) standards for grading. (In reality, we consider these to be minimum standards. Ours are higher.)

FAS (First and Seconds)*

This grade is premium lumber, with size minimums of 6" wide and 8' long. Boards must be from 83 % to 100% clear over the entire board. Clear cuttings must be at least 3" x 7' or 4" x 5'. Both faces of the board must meet these requirements.

FAS One Face (F1F)*

The better face must meet FAS standards, the poorer face must meet No. 1C standards.

Stoltzfus Hardwoods Grades

Moulding grade

Boards that meet this grade must be nearly 100% clear on 1 face.

Rustic

Rustic grade allows for sound knots that are 1 3/4" and smaller. Some pith is also allowed. For example, in white oak, we allow pith because it is not possible to get the livesawn character without it.

Light rustic

Light rustic allows for sound knots that are 1" and smaller. There is no limit to how many knots may be present.

Wormy

Boards in this category are 1C and better, and wormholes are not considered defects.

Sap

At Stoltzfus, we use Sap grading for hickory and soft maple. Soft maple cuttings are sap on 1 face and better, meaning that at least one side has sapwood. For hickory, one face is at least 90% Sap, and the other is at least 70% Sap (90/70).

A note about walnut

NHLA rules allow for smaller minimum size boards (width & length) for walnut than other species. This is meant to promote the maximum use of this prized species.
